History and Vision of St. John's

Named after St. John, apostle and evangelist, St. John's Regional Seminary is situated at Ramanthapur, Hyderabad, the meeting point of north and south Indian cultures. The Seminary building at Hyderabad was opened on 27th January, 1965 by the late Cardinal Valerian Gracias and was blessed by his Excellency Msgr. Robert Knox, the then Apostolic Nuncio.

Origins: The real beginnings, however, of St. John's as a Major Seminary go back to the year 1926. Prior to this, St. Joseph's Seminary was started at Chingleput in 1857 and later shifted to Kilacheri in 1860, to take care of formation of the priests for the Telugu speaking areas of the Archdiocese of Madras. In 1883, St. Joseph's Seminary was moved to Nellore, where Mill Hill Missionaries were working in the Telugu speaking parishes. Unfortunately, in 1897, for some unknown reasons St. Joseph's Seminary was closed down. After a lapse of nearly 30 years, the Major Seminary under the name of St. John was opened at Nellore in the year 1926 with Fr. William Bouter, a Mill Hill Missionary, as its first Rector. Fr. William Bouter became the first Bishop of Nellore in 1928 and under his paternal care, St. John's Seminary gradually developed. What was started as a small Diocesan Major Seminary emerged slowly into a big institution and by 1960 students from all the dioceses of Telugu Region were receiving priestly formation and the Mill Hill Missionaries decided to give the Seminary to the local Church.

Blooming: In 1960, the Andhra Pradesh Bishops' Council decided to shift St. John's Seminary to a new location and Hyderabad, the capital of the then State of Andhra Pradesh, was chosen. The Seminary was officially raised to the status of a Regional Major Seminary in May 1964 by the Sacred Congregation for the Evangelization of Peoples. Thanks to the keen interest of Archbishop Mark Gopu of Hyderabad, the building and other facilities were ready by October 1964 and the opening ceremony took place in January, 1965. The Congregation for Catholic Education granted affiliation of the Seminary to the faculty of Theology of Pontifical Urbaniana University, Rome, N.857/2015. The students who complete their four year theology successfully are conferred B.Th. degree on them by the Pontifical Urbaniana University. All the Bishops of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana who are the members of the Regional Bishops Council, are directly incharge of the Seminary. Being a Regional Seminary, St. John's caters to all the twelve dioceses in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana states. Some students belonging to Religious Congregations working in Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and some other dioceses on their borders also study here.

Mill Hill Missionaries: Mill Hill Missionaries to whom the Seminary is indebted were running the Seminary at Nellore from 1926 to 1964 and continued to serve at Hyderabad until 1975, before they handed over the seminary to the local Clergy. Till 1985 some Mill Hill Fathers were serving on the staff. Since then all the resident Staff Members have been from among the diocesan clergy of the region, appointed by the Andhra Pradesh Bishops' Council presently Telugu Catholic Bishops' Council.

Off-Shoots: Until the year 1985, St. John's Regional Seminary had students for one year of Introductory Course, 2 years of Philosophy and 4 years of Theology courses. To facilitate a better formation under different teams of formators, the Introductory year was shifted to Nuzvid in 1985. Designed on the model of the novitiate of the Religious, it is named as the "Spiritual Initiation Course". In the year 1987, the Philosophy section was also shifted to Kondadaba, Visakhapatnam Archdiocese. Both the above institutions are entrusted to the care of Salesians of Don Bosco. The Telugu Catholic Bishops' Council has decided to offer Bachelor of Theology and Diploma in Theology Courses for the Consecrated and the Laity. Besides regular programme, the seminary staff is offering Diploma in Theology course for the Consecrated and the Laity on all Saturdays at St. Mary's Degree College, Secunderabad.

Thrust of Formation: The chief aim of the Seminary is to prepare pastors for the Church in Telugu Region. However, the universal mission of the Church and Global dimension of evangelization is equally emphasized. The pastoral needs of the region inspire and guide the Seminary in the planning of the formation programme, giving utmost importance to Human, Spiritual, Intellectual, Pastoral, Missionary and Liturgical formation. In view of the future ministry of the candidates in the region, special attention is given to Telugu Language and Karnatic Music. Good Library facilities, regular involvement of the seminarians in Pastoral work in the nearby parishes and institutions and the dedicated involvement of the well qualified professors and formators ensure a qualitatively good, integral, wholistic and contextual formation.

St. John's Regional Seminary has a good collection of books in the library of about 39,150 volumes and a sizable collection of periodicals (back numbers). 27 religious periodicals from overseas, 40 from inland and 12 local general magazines are currently subscribed. The Library is computerised with four terminals made available to enable students to have easy access to the study material available. The Library is accessible to the seminarians for reference from 2.30 p.m. to 9.00 p.m. on week days.

A student can borrow two books at a time. Borrowed books are to be returned to the library within 15 days. If any one wants to keep a book for a longer period, permission is to be obtained from the Prefect of the Library. Five books can be borrowed during the time of writing seminar/semester papers and scientific works.

Students should not take books and periodicals kept or displayed in the general reference section outside the library. All books borrowed must be returned every semester before the commencement of the semester exams.

III. PUBLICATIONS

St. John's publications is the literary wing of this seminary. Its chief aim is to promote Telugu Christian literature. The seminary had published earlier a few books along with the quarterly by name 'Lokaniki Nene Velugu' which is appreciated by both the laity and clergy in the region.

The periodical 'Lokaniki Nene Velugu' (I am the Light of the world) is a theological pastoral quarterly published by the contribution of theological articles mostly from the staff, students and alumni. This quarterly is also a means of contact between the seminary and the alumni, who are engaged in the pastoral ministry, a forum for sharing pastoral experience and a source of information on subjects of interest to the Church of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and of the world at large. The articles published in the issues contribute towards theological updating of the ministry to laity in the field of evangelization.

SS 12. JOHANNINE WRITINGS (3 credits)

Johannine writings include the Gospel and the three epistles which are attributed to John the Apostle. Johannine theology which has been admired by both Christians and non-Christians alike, for its enlightening and far reaching insights into the mystery of God, His revelation of His Son and into the Sacramental nature of the Church, is now being seen by the Scholarship in the context of its own stormy beginning, conflicts and such a turmoil filled history. Johannine scholarship believes that the Johannine community underwent two crisis: i. the crisis with synagogue; ii. the crisis within the community. We will read the Gospel and the epistles against the background of these two crises. We will have an opportunity to have a glimpse of "God's Revelation - in action - in History" and to know how the Johannine tradition understood the uniqueness of God's revelation in Jesus and of Christian discipleship sustained in the Catholic Church.

Systematic Theology

ST 01. INTRODUCTION TO THEOLOGY (1 credit)

In this course a reflection is set up concerning the very possibility of doing theology and the methods that are acceptable in this endeavour. Students are taught the goal of theology as to provide a rationale and systematic presentation of Christian faith, show its coherence, truth and value, so as to allow for a conversation between faithful and with believers of another faith or even with non-believers. As such theology concerns the articulation of an encounter in which faith plays an important role and students are introduced to research the adequate methods to articulate their arguments and reasonings.

ST 05. PNEUMATOLOGY (2 credits)

The Third person of the Holy Trinity, the Holy Spirit which was hovering at the beginning of creation, was present throughout the salvation history inspiring, guiding, sanctifying various people to accomplish the plan of God. The Christ-event (the life, death and resurrection of Jesus) and the Spirit-event (the outpouring of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost) are intrinsically related. Therefore the course will reflect on the working and relevance of the Holy Spirit in our lives, in the Christian community and in the world she lives in. It will study the personal, societal and cosmic transformations which the action of the Spirit can bring about, according to the Scripture and Tradition.

ST 12. ECUMENISM (1 credit)

We profess in the Nicene Creed that the Church is 'one'. What does this oneness of the Church mean, when in actuality there exist numerous divisions in the Church of Christ? How does the unity of the Church, confessed by all Christians come to concrete expression in the world today? This complex issue of Christian unity in the doctrine of the Church, which is at the heart of ecumenical discussion, will be taken up in the course. It will explore how the ecumenical movement has determined the limits of acceptable diversity on doctrinal, social and confessional issues. This will be dealt within the light of the conciliar and post-conciliar teachings on Ecumenism.

ST 13. SACRAMENTS OF INITIATION (1 credit)

The sacraments of initiation are rooted in the Paschal Mystery and they enable the Christian communities to participate in the passion, death and resurrection of Christ, through the power of the Holy Spirit. Therefore, the sacraments of initiation have a strong Trinitarian foundation. Theologically, the sacraments of initiation are better understood within the framework of building the Body of Christ and promoting Christian Unity. The theology of initiation is inseparably linked to the theology of the Church. The Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist form one sequence in the practice and teachings of the Church.

ST 14. ECCLESIOLOGY (2 credits)

This course analyses the historical development of the modern ecclesiological understanding from the rise of modernity up to the contemporary ecclesiological developments until Vatican II, and the shifts that have taken place since Vatican II. The course focuses on ways of arriving at an ecclesiological equilibrium in the contemporary discussions related to the self understanding of the Church. Students are taught to focus on a balance between the horizontal and the vertical dimensions of the Church for the optimal realisation of Christ's purpose of establishing the Church and explore the applicability of the equilibrium in a pastoral context.

ST 17. THEOLOGY OF LIBERATION (2 credits)

The theology of liberation has roots in religious and social movements that swept the Latin American Continent in the 1950's. It is an effort to reflect on the meaning of Christian faith in the context of oppression, poverty, inequality and the effort to live a compassionate, courageous and life-sustaining response to those conditions. In other words it is a "view from below", that is, the sufferings of the oppressed. Since then the liberation theology in Latin America has inspired distinctive methodologies for doing theology in the context of oppression and social problems around the world. Our course will deal with the methodology, basic principles and implications of liberation theology from the Biblical and Church's perspectives. In our Indian context the course will also reflect on the emergence of Indian liberation theology and the challenges it poses to the mission of integral liberation in India.

ST 18. THEOLOGY OF EVANGELIZATION AND MISSION (2 credits)

The main content of the course Theology of Evangelization and Mission is to understand the presuppositions, motives, structures, methods as to how the Church fulfils the mission of Christ. Clarification of the meaning of terms such as 'mission', 'missions', 'missionary activity', missio dei, evangelization, proclamation, etc. will have to be dealt with. Tracing historical development of the concept of mission, various models prevalent up to the colonial times, and a short survey of the development of Missiology will be of help in seeking a fresh understanding of the Church's mission today. This involves a critical examination of four important ecclesial documents on mission, Ad Gentes, Evangelii Nuntiandi, Redemptoris Missio and Ecclesia in Asia, as well as the post-Vatican II paradigms of mission. And finally we will highlight the Church's Mission in today's Indian context with a triple orientation towards inculturation, liberation and dialogue.

ST. 19. THEOLOGY OF RELIGIONS AND DIALOGUE (2 credits)

The main content of the course Theology of Religions and Dialogue is to introduce the students to the Christian attitudes and theological approaches to the other religious traditions through the centuries with a special focus on the present-day debate about the theology of religions and religious pluralism. Similarly the meaning of dialogue and inter-religious dialogue, its various forms, fruits and obstacles, its theological foundations need to be explored. The contribution of the Church's magisterium will be highlighted. In the Indian context, which is predominantly characterized by many poor, many cultures and many religions, it is necessary on the part of the Church to tread the path of triple dialogue - dialogue with the poor, cultures, and religions as part of her integral mission. And finally in our today's context, dialogue, if it is genuine, has to become liberative dialogue, that is, contribute towards the promotion of integral human liberation.

Seminars & Dissertations

SEMINARS

In the 4 year theology course every student has to participate in 3 seminars. It is compulsory for all the 1st year student to participate in the Telugu language seminar. The 2nd and 3rd year students can choose each year one topic of his choice. Each participant has to prepare a paper on the theme allotted to him and present it. The evaluation is based on the written paper, its presentation and the ability of the student to clarify the doubts and questions.

SD 01. PARABLES IN THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS (2 credits)

The Greek word, parabolé used in the New Testament and translated into English as ‘parable’ is almost an equivalent of the Hebrew mashâl. For a parable is a form of comparison, and all statements of comparison are supposed to contain wisdom for enlightening the people. It is C.H. Dodd, who gives a comprehensive description of what a parable is, especially from the point of view of its usage in the Gospels: “At its simplest, the parable is a metaphor or simile drawn from nature or common life, arresting the hearer by its vividness or strangeness, and leaving the mind in sufficient doubt about its precise application to tease it into active thought” (C.H. Dodd, “The Parables of the Kingdom”, p. 5).

The Gospels contain several metaphors and similes which Jesus used during the course of his preaching. Jesus challenged his audience with new insights to their day to day life, but always giving clues from the familiar things of their daily life. For an example to an audience of simple country folk who needed the value of trust in God, he proclaims, “Look at the birds of the air; they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them... Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they neither toil nor spin; yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not clothed like one of these” (Mt 6:26, 28). This is a parable language in its simple form. Jesus used a number of parables to make it interesting and simple for the audience of his times. The Gospels contain many parables which never escaped the keen interest of Jesus’ audience and later of the Gospel readers. The study of these parables will help the students to understand the central message of Jesus contained in his teachings. This seminar will encourage the students to study and analyze the implications and the message contained in the parables of Jesus to enhance their knowledge in the Gospels.

Fr. Saginala Prakash

SD 02. THE SALVIFIC UNIQUENESS AND UNIVERSALITY OF CHRIST FOR ALL IN THE CONTEXT OF RELIGIOUS PLURALISM AND RELATIVISM (2 credits)

This seminar reiterates the essential doctrine of Catholic faith. The Church believes that God desires all men to be saved and come to full knowledge of truth (1 Tim 2, 4), and on the other hand there is one God and there is one Mediator between God and men, the God-man Christ Jesus who gave himself as a ransom for all, the testimony to which was borne at the proper time (1 Tim 2, 5-6). Thus, God wills the salvation of all in Jesus Christ, his incarnate Son. The Church believes in the salvific uniqueness and universality of Christ for all and proclaims it to all. At the same time, the question that Jesus asked his disciples while he was in Caesarea Philippi, “Who do you say that I am?” (Mk 8, 29; Mt 16, 16) has been making many people to reflect on the person of Christ. The faith experience of Jesus Christ of the apostolic and the post-apostolic age was summed up in the expression “Lord Jesus” and identified Jesus with Christ and Christ with Jesus as one person.

But in the modern times, the relativistic mentality questions the salvific uniqueness and universality of Christ and considers him as one of the saviors. This mentality is found even in certain circles among hierarchy of the Church and theologians. For this reason, it has become important to assert the indispensability of Christ for true prosperity, peace and joy of soul and body, possible only in that intimate communion of man with God called salvation, which is rooted in the union of man and God as effected by the God-man Christ, the Savior.

This seminar will facilitate the students to understand better with more clarity and offer new sights on the Unicity and Salvific Universality of Jesus Christ in the Indian context of religious pluralism, the theological debate of the theology of religions and the issue of relativism and missionary mandate of the Church. Any current Christological effort towards evolving the place of Jesus Christ cannot compromise on that what is fundamental to our faith.

SD 03. MORE GRAVE DELICTS (Delicta Graviora)

There are ‘more grave delicts’ (Delicta Graviora) which endanger the life of faith and communion of the faithful in the Church. The nature of these types of delicts mandate serious and special procedures. The only competent authority to deal these delicts, is the Dicastery for the Doctrine of Faith. These delicts are also popularly called ‘delicts/offences reserved to the Apostolic See’. There are special procedures to deal the external violation of these penal laws, with regard to these matters. Art.76 §§ 1,2 of Predicate Evangelium and art. 1 of Sacramentorum sanctitatis tutela distinguishes two types of Delicta Graviora, namely delicts committed in the celebration of sacraments and delicts committed against morals. The aim of these procedures is to safeguard the faith and morals and by implementing these procedures, the sacredness of the sacraments is ensured. Through these procedures due sanctions are imposed on the faithful who violate the penal laws envisaged in the Code of Canon Law. This not only safeguards the sanctity of the sacraments and morals within the Church but also seeks out the erring faithful and helps them to reintegrate into the communion of the Church through the imposition of penalties.

The seminar on “Delicta Graviora” is aimed at helping the students to have profound understanding with regard to the provisions of substantial and procedural law with regard to these types of delicts, in accordance with universal and particular law. They learn the classification of ‘more grave delicts’, especially with regard to the sacraments of Eucharist and of penance and morals. They get acquainted with ‘the Procedure and Praxis of the Dicastery for the Doctrine of the Faith regarding ‘Delicta Graviora’. After having acquired knowledge of these delicts and the procedures involved, the students are encouraged to choose a specific delict to research. The written submission and presentation in the class will help them to acquire a profound knowledge, be aware of their responsibility in safeguarding the sacredness of the sacraments and as a result take necessary steps so that abuses do not take place.

SD 04. DESIDERIO DESIDERAVI, POPULAR DEVOTIONS AND LITURGICAL FORMATION (2 credits)

Desiderio Desideravi comes from the Latin version of Luke 22:15: “I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer.”- (hoc paschamanducare vobiscum, antequampatiam) Pope Francis begins this beautiful and relatively short reflection on the beauty, goodness, and truth of the Sacred Liturgy by reminding us of the Most Holy Trinity’s love for us and desire for us. This Apostolic Letter Desiderio Desideravi stresses the central role of liturgical formation of the people of God in evangelization and faith: ‘A celebration that does not evangelize, that does not lead to an encounter with the Risen Lord is not authentic - but like a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal (1 Corinthians 13:1).

The goal of this seminar needs for a serious study and presentation about the vital liturgical formation. Pope Francis discusses the issues in our modern world with living completely the liturgical action. One of the antidotes is by diving into the four Constitutions of the Second Vatican Council anew (Sacrosanctum Concilium, The Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, December 4, 1963. Lumen Gentium, Dogmatic Constitution on the Church, November 21, 1964. Dei Verbum, Dogmatic Constitution on Divine Revelation, November 15, 1965. Gaudium et Spes, Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, December 7, 1965) and drawing from the wisdom of the ages therein contained. We do not simply need to know what the text of the Mass says and what the rubrics instruct. Instead, there must be a serious and vital formation in the liturgy: spiritually, practically, mentally, and academically. To this end, Pope Francis gives quite a bit of advice on how seminaries ought to form students. This education needs to be lived and Christ must be encountered. As the Pope says, “the mystery of Christ, the decisive question for our lives, does not consist in a mental assimilation of some idea but in real existential engagement with his person (DD, 41).” The Liturgy is carried out by Jesus Christ and it is our place of encounter with Him, through signs and symbols.

The constitution on the sacred Liturgy 'Sacrosanctum Concilium' No. 13 says: "Popular devotions of the Christian people, provided they conform to the laws and norms of the Church are to be highly recommended". These devotions should be so drawn up that they harmonize with the liturgical seasons, accord with the sacred liturgy, are in some fashion derived from it, and lead the people to it, since, in fact, the liturgy by its very nature far surpasses any of them. These devotions are attractive to the common people because of their spontaneity and simplicity, and are the expressions of the people's faith. They are the true signs of encounter between God and the human person. In these devotions, the faithful often find the fulfilment of their emotional needs which they seem to miss in the official worship. In all the religions besides official worship there existed a popular devotion.

The purpose of the seminar is firstly to analyze the meaning, origin and historical development of popular devotions in the life of the Church in general and in particular reference to Telugu Region - Secondly to study the relationship between popular devotions and liturgy - Finally to examine the various cultural manifestations of popular devotions in Telugu Region. In this seminar a liturgical and pastoral perspective is discerned. Popular devotions exist in the Church from its earliest times and they play a significant role in the daily life of Christians. They are not only found in Christianity but also in all other religions of the world as the basic human quest to relate to God.

PC 03. LITURGICAL SINGING (4 credits)

Liturgical singing is taught mainly in the practical way as preparation for full, conscious and active participation in the actual celebrations in the seminary. In this way, the seminarians are also guided in liturgical music for their weekend ministry in parishes. This will help all of them as future priests to assure dignified liturgical music in their pastoral work. The Church's principles and norms concerning music in liturgy are explicitly referred and explained. The meaning of the liturgical hymns and their function in the respective parts of the liturgy and their relation to the liturgical seasons and feasts are taught. New songs are selected and practiced from a wide variety of old and new hymnbooks and audio cassettes.

Text Book: English : With Joyful Lips (text edition) / Sing a New Song (music edition): approved for the Archdiocese of Bombay and published by "St. Pauls", Bombay; Telugu : Daivarchana

YR 01. PASTORAL COMMUNICATION (6 credits)

The pastoral effectiveness of a priest today depends much on his ability to communicate the message of Christ in an appealing and convincing manner. Therefore the priest needs to learn an art of transmitting the message in an interesting and captivating way. This course will offer students some practical help to be effective communicators of the Word of God. It is spread over six semesters. The first, second and third year theology students are allotted one credit in each semester to have practical training in effective speaking. Each student selects a topic and prepares a sermon and on a given day he delivers it. The professor and the students present make an evaluation of the sermon: the communicative style with apt facial expression, tone, physical posture and also the content. This whole process enables the student to become better preachers of the Word.

Seminary Anthem

On eagle's wings flies John's Seminary high, higher, highest
With eagle's eyes seek Christ deep, deeper, deepest
Like yearning John's recline we on Jesus' Breast
As John may we ever listen to Jesus' heart-beat (2)

1. 'Come and See' is the gentle invitation to the throbbing disciples
Prompt was the response to go to the divine master
Lead us on John, our patron to the good shepherd
Wild with joy mild with peace, 'hail' we sing to John
"On Eagle" (2)

2. John the beloved is the model to blooming followers
Gallant is our response to follow the Risen Lord
Guide us on John, our Patron to the high priest
Agile with dance aloud with melody, 'hail' we sing to John
"On Eagle" (2)

John, the Apostle, We love you !
John, the beloved we hail you !
John, our Patron, we pride in you !

జయహో జయహో యోహాను భక్త
జయహో జయహో జయ జయహో (2)

వేదనిధుల సెలయూట నుండి
సత్యామృతమును గ్రోలిన మూర్తి
కాపుము నిరతము నీ శిష్యకోటిని (4)

యేసుని హృదిపై శిరమును ఉంచి
ప్రేమ సరాగము వినిన యోగీశ్వరా
